All areas within Heathrow flight paths.

All of Surrey and outer London

area too wide

Boroughs are OK but support should be given for the most needy areas and people within them.

Chiswick

Could be wider and include those north of Heathrow in Bucks

Don't know

Elmbridge

Elmbridge

Guildford

Guildford, Woking

Hammersmith and Fulham, and perhaps Brent, should be added to the list of London Boroughs supported, given that ex-LHR flights pass over those boroughs and impact on local resources.

Hounslow

I believe these are the right areas, as we are most affected by Heathrow i.e. flight paths.

I feel that Kingston should also be included.

Kingston, Surbiton, and also wider in London - along the Piccadilly line perhaps.

Molesey, Claygate, Esher, Just over the Thames eg Elmbridge

Na

No areas are wrong, but we should use Heathrow's "global" status to broaden the areas we support. Mirror the transport links that we develop and recognise how far and wide our employees live.

Not completely. Other areas that are on the flight path or within 1 hour commuting of Heathrow.

Parts of Burnham Bucks comes under the Slough area

Potentially, I would say a 10-15mile radius/ where workers live.

Richmond - headlines show as a well off Borough but there are areas struggling as much as any other.

Shepperton

There needs to be more localised funding recognising the impacts of air pollution on local communities

These are the boroughs in close proximity to HCF so OK

Wider area - including Reading, Bracknell, Wokingham, South Oxfordshire

Woking, Guildford, Surrey Heath, Elmbridge

Yes - Heathrow has many neighbouring Boroughs and the above Boroughs are a fair reflection of those that are connected or affected by Heathrow

Yes they are the right areas and I think the Royal Borough of Kingston should be added to your list.

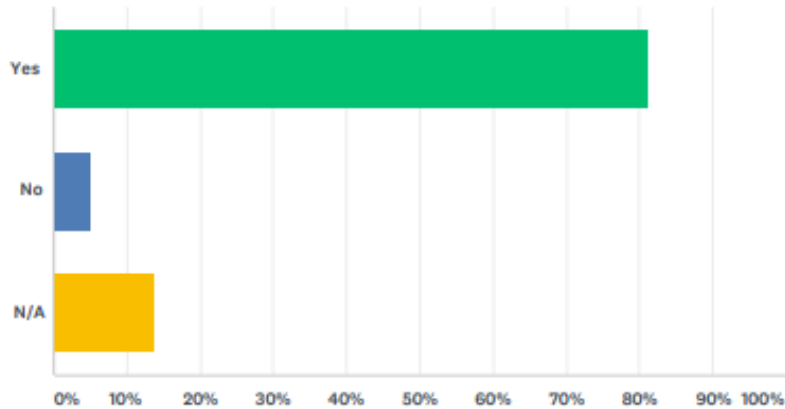

Yes, but as Heathrow is a Hub, and its business serves a culturally diverse nation, it might want to consider serving more into London.

Yes, but more and more boroughs are being blighted by Heathrow so could be extended further.

Yes. Particularly small boroughs, which are notoriously challenging when it comes to securing funds.

BOTH

Not had any dealings with them, so unable to comment

I haven't needed to contact them so far.

Facebook should be used more as easy to get the information out there and recruit understanding of what HCF do.

Communication is always good

Very easy to reach and responsive

They refused a grant application to our organisation because they confused us with another, entirely separate, local organisation. Despite many emails explaining that we are not related we did not receive a satisfactory reply, so I still don't know whether they have updated their files or not (despite us giving the Company House ID number for both organisations)

EAL103-S18_2 Hanwell Hootie Music Festival refers

Very helpful

The minimal contact is appreciated, particularly from small groups with few staff. It enables us to push forward and deliver rather than be office-bound due to excessive reporting.

Some colleagues have been having trouble downloading items

good liaison

I haven't had any contact with them by phone

have not needed to for a while

Always very courteous & helpful

I received a one to one visit from the Community Fund which was really useful, also follow up email and telephone calls. I also attended a Heathrow Com Fund presentation last year in the local Borough

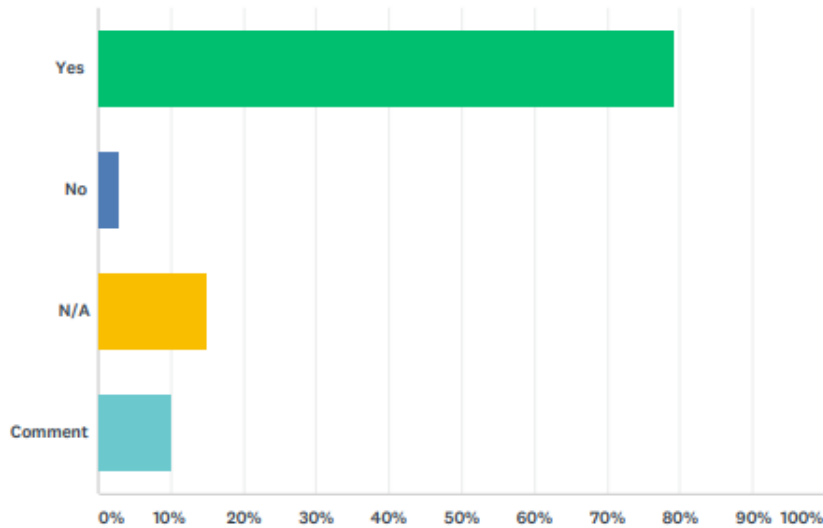

Took a while to get a reply

Very grateful for the match funding given to 4th Hounslow Scout Group

I declare an interest, with the group that I volunteer with have received grants from HCF

HCF TEAM IS VERY HELPFUL AND EFFICIENT DEALING WITH ANY QUERIES

I haven't contacted them

Always helpful and efficient

We are very disappointed by the negative outcome of our small funding application.

MISC405-S18 - Launching The GAIA Network Association refers

most definately, without the assistance of the team we would have never been on the road to achieving our aim

OK

Yes, but it can often feel as if the team are perhaps overstretched.

We are within our third and final grant from you so we tend to anticipate what you require so contact is minimal which, I feel sure, must save considerable time for both parties.

yes - when I did a few years ago

Yes - very Rebecca is very helpful

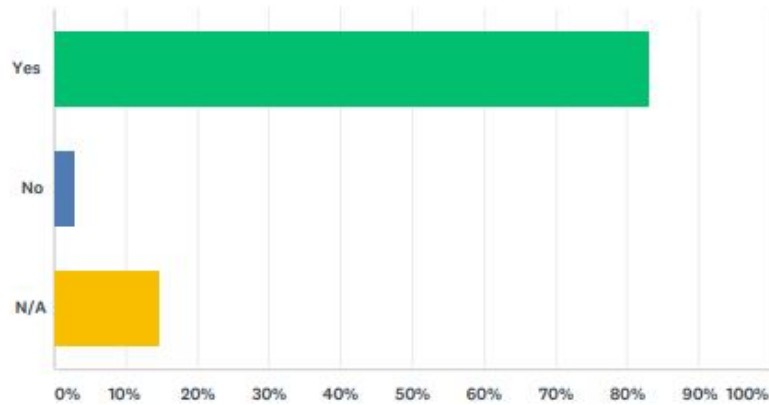

We had a FANTASTIC training session from HCF at Voluntary Support Surrey - THANK YOU

I didn't find them very helpful, and slightly dismissive

THE TEAM IS EASILY APPROACHABLE AND SUPPORTIVE

Our project had a site visit earlier in the year - which was very helpful when i was having difficulty with the application the team reached out to me to help.

OK

Yes, once you are on the phone

Again, any queries we have had have been quickly answered

More assistance and advice could be given to rejected applications. Often people do not understand fully why their application was rejected, despite spending considerable personal time pulling it together.

Haven't spoken to them myself

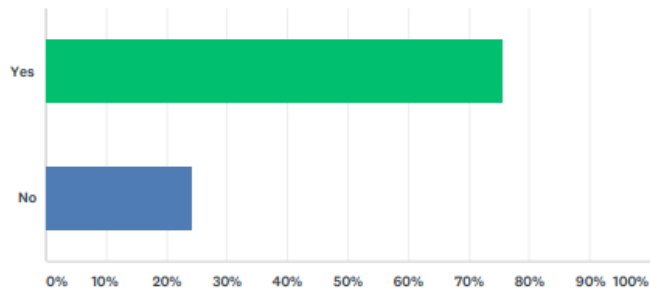

Yes - very supportive and informative

I didn't feel that they were on our side

The application process started online but we had to consult with you via phone and email.

I think the form could be simplified to make it easier to report on intended outcomes. I also think the for re income & expenditure could be reworked to make it more straight forward

The hardest part is fitting into the word count

max 50 words on complex issues is not helpful

Funding applications are as you want them to be. Personally I like to draft and re-draft until it is as good as I can make it. I don't think it should ever be easy to ask a funder to support you. You have to make your case and be willing to spend time for it.

Very little lengthy application for only a small amount £2,500

I don't have a copy of the text I submitted....?

W&M301-S18 - Moving on!

used the paper application

couldn't attach any photos

The word limit is currently too restrictive to describe complex issues. Some fields need a longer limit

Some questions not clear

The questions are not clear and are not always obvious in what they are asking. Not very easy for a dyslexic user. Would recommend less questions per page and a more consolidated approach without double negatives in sentence structure.

It was quite a detailed process with a fairly long lead time, although this is understandable

Our view may be somewhat biased since we had secured two previous grants so were familiar with your requirements.

easy but unnecessarily slow

Although unsuccessfull - I did find the process easy to undertsand and I also received assistance with the application writing

Quite complex and time consuming.

The process was confusing and some of the instructions appeared to be contradictory

Not had to use it

Sometimes its difficult to produce evidence ie pay in slips, as I have to rely on Treasurer to send it.
